

The works of ANSP specialists appreciated with diplomas and medals at the "Traian Vuia" International Exhibition of Inventions and Innovations

The National Agency for Public Health participated in the "Traian Vuia" International Exhibition of Inventions and Innovations, Timișoara 2025, which took place on October 3-4, 2025 in Romania. Scientific researchers Octavian Sajin, MD, Nina Iziumov, MD, Associate Professor and Mariana Zavtoni, MD, PhD, presented the works participating in the exhibition at the institution's stand.

A total of nine works were presented. Innovative works from various fields were presented at the exhibition, from more than 30 countries of the world and about 260 participants.

The international jury, which included specialists in the field from various countries, examined all the presented works. The works exhibited by ANSP were appreciated with diplomas and gold medals.

Also, special awards were obtained with diplomas from the Forum of Romanian Inventors (Iași, Romania), Reserch&Development Center "Healthy vibe" (Timișoara, Romania), The National Institute for Research & Development in Chemistry and Petrochemistry (Bucharest, Romania) and Research-Innovation Association CORNELIUGROUP (Deva, Romania).

These awards confirm the professionalism and innovative capacity of the specialists of the National Agency for Public Health, contributing to the promotion of scientific research from the Republic of Moldova on an international level.

